Habits are easily formed especially bad ones, such as over eating, drinking and smoking. Once formed, they are difficult to be got rid of. Idleness and over work are also matter of habit. Bad habits must be fought against. They should not be allowed to be formed, and which formed, and when formed, one should try to give them up at all costs.

The habit of consuming tobacco is one of the most widespread and most harmful habits. None has claimed any good for it. Again more harmful than this, is the drinking habit. Alcohol of any kind is poison, even if taken in small quantities. Drinking is universal in cold countries, under the false notion that it is a necessity. Millions of people have begun to do entirely without it, with great advantage to their health and wealth. Such bad habits must be given up.
